Third Army Clears German From Last Stronghold in Belgium

BERLIN ADMITS GAINS

French 1st Army Reports The Capture of 2200 Nazi Prisoners

PARIS, Feb. 5.—(INS)—American First and Third Army forces swept through Western Germany today in a curving front more than 40 miles long and hammered out gains of most six miles as the U. S. 9th Division jabbed its way into the defense belt of the Siegfried line.

Four First Army divisions broke through the first belt of the German West wall in sweeping gains which halted another seven German divisions and villages in the region of Monschau.

Radio reports said that the Yanks had broken entirely through the West wall and main belt of Siegfried defenses. However a later report from the headquarters of Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery said the Yanks had widened their penetration but had not yet broken entirely through the Siegfried line.

NATURAL CAMOUFLAGE FAILS

WAVY STRIPES have gone a long way toward hiding many of our ships from the enemy, but the probable originator of such camouflage found it a detriment in the incident portrayed above. Policeman Donald G. Drager found little difficulty in spotting the zebra shown here after it escaped from the National Zoo in Washington, D. C. A little fancy lasso work followed, and the chase was over. (International)

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEAINED BY SCRIBES

The year 1944 was the most satisfactory in the history of Doylestown Country Club, reports showed last week at the annual meeting and election of officers held at the club house.

Members of the club who have stood by during the "war years," have increased to a total active membership of 126. The club gained 24 new members during 1944 and now has a total of 22 members in the service in various parts of the world.

The annual meeting started off with a buffet supper, and 46 members were in attendance, the largest annual meeting in many years.

Dr. Frederick Lutz was elected president for 1945, and Lieut. J. Donald Bean, USN, who is on duty in the Atlantic area, was named honorary president. J. Carroll Meloy, Jr., was elected vice-president.

Mrs. Reba Otto, of near Sellersville, has received word from her son, Albert Otto, that he is alive, although she had known he was missing in action since October 3. The card indicated it had been mailed from a German prisoner-of-war camp. The young man mentioned his father and mother in his card, not knowing his father had died since he was reported missing.

On the card he wrote: "I guess, Mom and Pop, you are glad to hear I am all right. Send me plenty of eats. You will find my address on the other side of the card. Love to all, Albert."

He was a machine gunner while on duty in Luxembourg at the time he was captured. His card was dated Oct. 30, 1944.

Quadruplet Calves Born Dead at The Lovett Farm

William Lovett had a series of surprises one morning last week. Following the birth of two calves to one of the cows in his herd, he informed the family that there were "twins." Returning to the house after another visit to the stables he changed the story to "triplets"; and after breakfast learned there were quadruplets.

The sad part of the story is that all were born dead. The calves appeared normal in every respect, and of unusual weight. The "quads," now frozen due to the intense cold, have been viewed by many at the Lovett farm in Falls Township. The mother cow is doing fine.

INCREASE BAIL OF MAN WHO TOYED WITH GUN IN HOUSE

Bullet Found To Have Punctured The Bladder of Eddie Jenkins

BAIL RAISED TO $2,000

Julius Baker Taken To The County Jail in Default of Bail

A more serious phase developed late Saturday afternoon in what is termed the accidental shooting of two men, while one of those shot was exhibiting a revolver in an endeavor to sell it to one of three friends.

Eddie Jenkins, colored, a Harrison Hospital patient with a 38-calibre bullet in his right pelvic bone, is reported as also having suffered a bladder wound. Jenkins' condition was pronounced as such that Julius Baker, also colored, was retained before Justice of the Peace Arthur P. Brady, Saturday night, and Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo asked that Baker's bail be increased from $1,200 to $2,000. The request was granted by Justice Brady, and Baker, unable to get bail, was taken to Doylestown yesterday morning and lodged in the Bucks County Jail.

Baker, in whose hand the revolver was when it was discharged, suffered a wounded thumb as the bullet grazed the thumb as it sped into Jenkins' body.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

(By International News Service)

AMERICANS CONSOLIDATE GAINS AT MANILA

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon—Elements of two American divisions, returning the Stars and Stripes to Manila after three years of enemy occupation, consolidated their gains in the northern half of the city today as other Yanks raced from the south to trap an estimated 10,000 Japs below the Pasig River.

While troops of the famed First Cavalry and 37th Infantry Divisions prepared to drive the Japs from that part of the city south of Pasig after storming into the Philippine capital and seizing the Malacan Palace, Santo Tomas concentration camp and Grace Park airfield, spearheads of the 11th Airborne Division stormed over the last approaches to Manila. According to International News Service war correspondent Clark Lee, the Eighth Army units were said to be "at Cavite," site of a huge naval base just southwest of the metropolis. They were approaching Manila, "where they will take Jap forces south of Pasig from the rear," Lee added.

Shortly after Gen. Douglas MacArthur—whose liberating drive into Manila made good his pledge to return—announced that "approximately 3,700" civilians were rescued when Santo Tomas was taken by the First Cavalry. Lee revealed that 300 other internees were held as hostages by the Japs. Disdaining the traditional Samurai code by which they are supposed gladly to die to save face, the Japs haggled for their safe conduct out of the city, offering as their currency the safety of the 300 men, women and children.

International News Service was correspondent Frank Robertson, in a dispatch filed this morning from Santo Tomas University inside Manila, said that the Japs, terms were accepted and the enemy troops—led by Lieut. Col. Hayashi—were escorted through the American lines after the other internees were released.

STORMY SEAS AHEAD

The Fourth Term of President Roosevelt is now well under way, and judging from what has happened since his re-election it promises to be the stormiest he has yet seen.

Much more is involved than the fact that a Fourth Term itself is unprecedented and that Total War is unlike anything America ever before experienced.

The election itself was unsatisfactory. For one thing, the margin was too close. For another, some of the means used in Roosevelt's campaign were questionable and disturbing. The election was far from being a free expression of public sentiment.

This feeling, of course, is one of the fundamental causes for a development which may prove of great significance in determining the future well-being of the nation—though it will not ease the path of the President during the next four years.

The breaking down of party lines in the national Congress is a matter of much importance.

Congress no longer is a rubber-stamp. Both houses are openly critical, in some fields hostile, to the President's plans. A coalition of Republicans and insurgent Democrats has been formed which is strong and large enough to dominate Congress in controversial matters.

Resentment over the Hillman touch in Democratic Party policies is the wedge which has greatly deepened the split between Old-Line and New Deal Democrats.

But the reaction in Congress is only one symptom of a nationwide reaction: Roosevelt support is on an ebb-tide.

Public sentiment has suffered many rude blows since election day. Some of these are of not too great national importance, though annoying and disturbing; such as the priority given Elliot Roosevelt's dog, the ease with which members of the President's family upset train schedules, and the discovery that even Fala can't settle down to normal domestic life.

Other developments, however, are of immense importance. Some of them are as follows:

1. The Greek crisis, in which Churchill called on British soldiers to put down Greek resistance to the Churchill-supported Greek government.

2. Liquidation of the Polish patriot group—martyrs of Warsaw—with the apparent consent of President Roosevelt.

3. Revelation that the much-vaunted Atlantic Charter, our alleged goal for many months of war, did not and never did exist.

4. Reopening of the Avery fight—Roosevelt's test case in trying to force workers into unions—and the ensuing decision by a Roosevelt-appointed Federal judge that Roosevelt and Biddle were wrong.

5. Resumption of large-scale rationing shortly after the election, on capricious terms and under circumstances that indicated the easier Summer and Fall treatment was politically motivated.

6. Presentation of a new Budget and other post-war economic messages showing nothing more than continued borrowing as New Deal fiscal plans.

7. Renewed demand by the President for a universal draft.

8. Backing down of the administration to Music-Master Petrillo.

E. H. NEITZEL DIES AS RESULT OF BURNS

Hulmeville Man Succumbs in Jewish Hospital, Philadelphia, Sunday

ACCIDENT IN PHILA.

HULMEVILLE, Feb. 5.—Death occurred early yesterday morning for a local man who was painfully burned Saturday morning as the result of a "shooting arc-flash" at his place of employment in Philadelphia.

The victim is Elwyn H. Neitzel, 30, of Bellevue avenue, husband of Kathryn Halk Neitzel.

Mr. Neitzel died at 2:30 a. m. yesterday in the Jewish Hospital, Philadelphia, following treatment for burns on approximately four-fifths of his body. He had been found unconscious on the floor at the Adams sub-station of Philadelphia Electric Co., at Adams avenue and Tabor Road, Philadelphia, after extinguishing the flames under a shower at the plant, and then making a courageous attempt to restore service following the power break which indirectly caused his death. Clothing was burned from his body.

Neitzel, who was born in Philadelphia, had resided in Bristol Township most of his life, moving to this borough at the time of his marriage five years ago. He is the son of Mrs. Marie Neitzel, Third avenue, Bristol, and the late Herman Neitzel. In addition to his wife and mother, a daughter, Loreta Jean, aged two, of Hulmeville, and two brothers, Ralph and Richard, of Bristol, survive.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER ARE OVERCOME BY COAL-GAS FUMES

Croydon Manor Residents Aided by Their Neighbors

1 CRAWLS TO PHONE

Mrs. Harry Voltz and Mrs. Fred Arleth Are The Two Affected

CROYDON, Feb. 5.—A mother and daughter, overcome by coal gas at their home here Saturday morning, no doubt owe their lives to the fact that their party telephone line was in use. Too weak from the fumes to dial for aid, the daughter, upon hearing a voice on the phone as she picked up the receiver, called "Won't somebody help us?"

The victims, aided by neighbors who hurried to their homes, are Mrs. Harry Voltz and daughter Mrs. Fred Arleth, Hillcrest and Sunset avenues, Croydon Manor.

The escaping coal gas is believed to be due to a defective flue. The two women are considerably improved today following rest and treatment by a physician.

Mrs. Voltz had arisen at an early hour to prepare her husband's breakfast. After he left for his employment, Mrs. Voltz attempted to attend to household duties, but felt quite ill. Calling her daughter, Mrs. Arleth, who was still abed, the younger woman was informed that Mrs. Voltz was ill. Mrs. Arleth got up to aid her mother, and fell in the doorway of her bedroom. When Mrs. Voltz in turn arose to help the daughter, Mrs. Voltz fell at the bath-room door. Mrs. Arleth, realizing the plight of the two, made a desperate attempt to reach the telephone, crawling to the instrument in the dining-room. Managing to get the receiver from the hook, she was too weak to dial, but then heard a voice, which proved to be that of Miss "Betty" Wagonman, a neighbor. "Won't somebody help us?" pleaded Mrs. Arleth. When Miss Wagonman inquired who was seeking aid, Mrs. Arleth was able to give her first name, "Virginia." In a few seconds Miss Wagonman, her mother, Mrs. William Wagonman, and other neighbors were on the scene. The two women were aided to bed, and a physician was summoned.

ROAD TO VICTORY STILL HARD

While the temptation is strong these days to predict early victory for the Allies in Europe, it has to be remembered that a large part of Europe remains a fortress and can be used to carry on that fight to the death which Hitler the other day promised his enemies. Even the capture of Berlin need not mark the end of Nazi resistance.

When Hitler, outwardly defiant as ever, spoke of a German victory he was of course talking nonsense and he knew it. That is an utter impossibility except on the basis that a soft peace could be considered a victory. But when he declared that he would wage war to the finish he was undoubtedly stating the exact truth. The Fuehrer and the gangsters around him understand that their lives are forfeit the moment they surrender. Only while they fight on and on, heedless of consequences, and of the sacrifices others have to make, can their own precious skins be safe.

A quick end to the war, then, depends entirely on the people of Germany. That there is bitter suffering on the home front is evident. That fear has a large part of the population in its grip is likewise corroborated. That many citizens are actually desperate is indicated by riots in various parts of the Reich. Only men and women who have reached the point where they do not care whether they live or die would dare to oppose a government which never has shown the slightest mercy to rebels.

So the elements are present for a German collapse. But, as was the case in the other war, it will have to come from the bottom and those who sponsor it must expect to pay the extreme penalty for their action. Germany, under Hitler, is like that.

ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER

Admiral William F. Halsey once predicted that the war in the Pacific would end in 1944. As a prognosticator he is an outstanding sea fighter.

The extent of Admiral Halsey's eminence as a naval commander is attested by the fact that in five months of action his Third Fleet has done more damage to the Japanese than any other fleet in history has inflicted on an enemy.

According to the Admiral's reports, the Third Fleet has sunk the tremendous total of $1,017,000 tons of Japanese warships and merchant vessels and destroyed 4,370 Japanese planes in the air and on the ground. In warships alone the Third Fleet has put out of action 152, including eight battleships. It has sent 573 support and merchant ships to the bottom.

Forces under Admiral Halsey's command have dealt Japanese scapeword blows from which it can never recover. His prediction about the end of the Pacific war was wrong, but when the struggle actually does come to an end, his record of naval destruction wreaked upon the enemy will have been a vital factor in Japan's defeat.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol May 8, 1884. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Edmund N. Grundy, a member of the firm of Grundy Brothers & Campion, died at Philadelphia on the 2nd of May, after a short illness of heart disease. Mr. Grundy was born at Hulmeville, that being the country seat of his father, where the earlier years of his life were chiefly spent. At an early age he embarked in business with his brother, William H. Grundy, with whom he has ever since been associated in various business enterprises. In 1871 the firm of Grundy Brothers & Campion was formed for the purpose of engaging in the manufacture of worsted yarns, this industry at that time being in its infancy in this country. In 1876 the business having grown beyond the capacity of the buildings occupied by them in Philadelphia, and being familiar with the many advantages Bristol offered, arrangements were made for the erection of what are now known as the Bristol Worsted Mills.

W. W. Woodruff has been re-elected county school superintendent by a vote on the second ballot of 107 to 86. His jurisdiction does not extend to Bristol borough.

The fishermen of Bristol on Tuesday night last made the largest catch of shad of the season, and prices as a consequence have declined, fine ones selling from 35 to 40 cents.

The street committee has repaired the board walk on Walnut street between the railroad and the canal bridge.

Oyster shells are worth from 30 to 40 cents per cart load on our borough.

The tying of horses to trees has caused considerable complaint.

The school board met on Tuesday evening and elected Matilda S. Booz as superintendent of the public schools of Bristol borough.

lie schools of Bristol borough. Miss Booz is a practical teacher of long experience and proved efficiency, having been connected with our schools during a continuous period of 17 years. . . . The office of superintendent is a new one in our borough. It was recently established by the present board of directors in conformity with a law authorizing any borough containing over 5,000 inhabitants to elect its own superintendent. Hitherto the principal of the grammar school, Mr. W. L. Delap, has nominally acted as superintendent as far as practicable, in addition to his essential work as principal, but this division of duties and attention necessarily involves disadvantage to the respective offices.

(Following items culled from Bucks Co. Gazette, issue of May 15, 1884.)

It is said that on some of the streets in the second ward cattle are permitted to graze, much to the annoyance of the citizens residing on some of the quiet streets of that section of the borough. There is no ordinance that permits such use being made of the streets.

A siding has been placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad below Otter street bridge, for the purpose of accommodating farmers desiring to receive fertilizing material.

Bristol has 104 dealers of various kinds that are obliged to take out license.

About 90 feet of the canal bank at Tullytown on the 11 mile level, was carried away Tuesday night, and the water from the break found its way into Belsford's Creek, causing it to overflow, and flooding railroad tracks, washing out the gravel between the sleepers, and causing a detention to through travel for two hours. Twenty car loads of stone ballast were sent for to repair damage done to the road.

The biggest thing in the real estate line that has been done in Bristol for a number of years has been the purchase by a few citizens of the Hess property entire, and that portion of the property of Richard Carson and John Meyers, lying east of the Beaver Dam road, with the exception of the buildings on the two latter named places. The land bought lies in the third ward, and is all east of the Beaver Dam road, and comprises about 38 acres.

SUGGESTS VARIETY OF VEGETABLES BEST ADAPTED TO FREEZING

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham

(Home Economics Representative)
Bucks County gardeners are planning now and ordering seeds for spring plantings. The question most often asked in regard to freezing vegetables—"Does it matter what variety of peas I grow to package later for freezing?" Yes, it makes considerable difference. Some varieties are better adapted to freezing than others and give a more satisfactory product.

The following varieties are suggested for Pennsylvania:
Asparagus—Washington.
Beans, snap—Stringless, Green-pod, Tendergreen, Brittle Wax, Pencil Pod, wax.
Beans, lima—Fordhook (bush).

Baby Potato (bush); King of the Garden (pole), Giant Podded or Ideal (pole).
Beets—Detroit Dark Red.
Carrots—Red Core, Chantenay, Nantes or Coreless.
Corn—Goldencross Bantam, Bantam, Evergreen, Carmelcross.
Spinach—King of Denmark, Long Standing, Bloomsdale.
Peas—Thomas Laxton, Alderman, Rhubarb—MacDonald.
These are the most common vegetables frozen. For other kinds of vegetables or information on freezing, write to Mrs. Mary Jacoby Fleetham, Home Economics Representative, 75 N. Main street, Doylestown, Pa.

"Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Remembering that it was in the cool of the day when thou didst walk with Adam, so this evening hour may we find Thee walking beside us, hearing our prayer. Dear Father, thou hast promised that if thy people which are called by thy name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek thy face, and turn from their wicked ways, then thou wilt hear from heaven, and forgive their sins, and will heal their land. We thank thee for this promise; now may we ask that thou wilt give the Holy Spirit in such measure upon thy people that under His convicting power, thy people will fall before thee in humbleness and contriteness of heart to beg forgiveness that our land might be healed for thy glory. In the name of Jesus Christ our Lord we ask this, Amen.

QUICK TREATMENT IS ADVISED FOR REMOVING STAINS

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham

(Home Economics Representative)
Many of the spots that unfortunately get on clothing are grease, sugar or starch. The best way to treat these spots is to get at them right away.

A cleaning solvent, such as carbon tetrachloride, will remove grease but won't take out starch or sugar. Water must be used for them.

The following method is suggested when removing spots:

Place the right side of the garment on a folded bath towel and work from the wrong side of the material. With a clean cloth, apply the solvent over an area wider than the stain. Rub gently back and forth in straight lines and be careful not to have too much cleaning fluid on the cloth. Move the towel and repeat the treatment when necessary.

If a stain persists after the grease is removed, it is probably sugar or starch. It will be necessary to repeat the treatment, this time using a solution made of equal parts cleaning solvent and warm water. Moisten the spot and blot dry with a towel. Move the bath towel and repeat the procedure until the sugar or starch is completely dissolved.

Lipstick stains may be removed with clear cleaning fluid, working from the wrong side as suggested for regular grease spots.

To take out spots from a necktie, fold a small towel and slip inside the tie and work on the right side. After the spot is removed, allow the tie to dry, then press. Be sure to use a tie pad or fold a piece of

CELTICS OUT TO WIN FROM CATHOLIC BOYS

The Celtics will go after their third straight game tonight on the Mutual Aid floor as they meet the Catholic Boys Club in the second attraction of the Bristol Youth League. In the first game, the Bristol Aces will meet the Third Ward Eagles. The Eagles will also be shooting for their third straight. First game will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

The Celtics won a close game from the Harriman Methodist last week, the latter club leading until the last few minutes of the game. However, Manager Vito Della is confident that his boys can take over the Boys' Club.

The Eagles had little difficulty in their contest with Franklin last week but will run up against a snag with the Aces who have shown improvement in every game.

SEA-BEES WIN 4TH STRAIGHT GAME

With Joe Pindar leading the attack, the Sea Bees won their fourth straight game in the Bristol high school junior league by defeating the Navy quintet, 16-7. Pindar accounted for 10 points.

In the other games played, the Calvary five lost its first game when beaten by the Air Corps, 23-21. Jimmy Sottile led the scorers in this tilt with nine points. The Coast Guard beat the Snipers, 19-12, and the Commandoes scored a close one over the Marines, 19-17. Martin of the Commandoes scored 16 of his team's points.

Harmon, of the Calvary team, is the leading scorer of the circuit with 36 points while Martin is in second place with 34 points.

moned. Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Storms, Mrs. M. Storms, Mrs. Wilson Smith and Mrs. Albert Stiles also quickly arrived and aided the two women. Mrs. Arleth was found in an unconscious condition, on her knees at the telephone table. She had been able to hang up the receiver. She informed her family and friends later that she had struck her head on the telephone table and was unable to see what she was doing, due to her condition. Mrs. Voltz was also found unconscious at the bathroom door.

The family's two dogs, in the basement, were unharmed. The fumes from the hot-air heater, evidently only escaped to the main floor of the bungalow.

Neighbors also summoned Mr. Voltz from his employment. Mrs. Arleth's husband, Fred Arleth, E. M. 3/c, is serving in the U. S. Navy.

Object To Compulsory Military Training

the peace which is to come after the present war is brought to a conclusion is a matter of supreme importance. Presumably this war is being fought to protect democratic liberties and to bring about a world situation in which the peace loving countries can cooperate in a world federation that will do away with occasion for wars. The success of this plan will depend largely upon the leadership of our country. Compulsory military training is a totalitarian method which defeats the ends which we are avowedly seeking. Its adoption will destroy confidence in our leadership.

We urge that further consideration of such measures be postponed until peace time when they can be discussed soberly and in proper perspective. We believe in the supreme worth of every individual human being and that loyalty to God transcends loyalty to any temporal government. Compulsory military training strikes at the very heart of this fundamental principle of Christian democracy. It is difficult for us to understand this when our country is at war. This measure is being urged upon us now because its proponents know that a tremendous majority of our people will oppose it during peace time. Some of these proponents sincerely believe it will safeguard our defense, whereas it will really cast suspicion upon us. Others selfishly desire to continue the war system because it brings them private gain. Our country must take every constructive measure to build a peaceful world. At the same time we must watch carefully to prevent measures which undermine the possibility of reaching the most desirable goal.

We ask you to use your influence in the positive direction we have indicated and to vote against bills for compulsory military training.

On behalf of Bucks Quarterly Meeting of Friends.

Sincerely your friends,

Americans Sweep Through W. Germany

fried line to the plains stretching to the Rhine.

The Third Army not only cleared the Germans from their last stronghold in Belgium but have plunged into Germany to reach points which are more than eight miles east of the line they held when the Germans broke into the Ardennes salient in December.

Berlin was quick to admit that the First and Third armies had crushed through their defenses and one Nazi commentator warned that Allied forces were preparing to launch an offensive along practically the entire length of the Western Front.

Bitter fighting also developed four miles southeast of Haguenau where the Americans were pushing the Nazis out of Oberhoffen in costly house-to-house combat.

At the southern end of the Western Front the French First Army reported the capture of 2,200 prisoners as Allied columns moved south from Colmar and north from Mulhouse to squeeze Nazi troops caught west of the Rhine. The French First Army communique said that the gap between the advancing forces was somewhat less than eight miles.

MANILA, Feb. 3—(Delayed)—

(INS)—Eight hundred gaunt, unshaven cavalymen of the Eighth Regiment made military history tonight when they were the first American unit to reach Manila after a daring and dramatic drive which covered 100 miles in three days.

The speedy mechanized columns swept into the city, heedless of the possibility that they might be outnumbered by Jap defenders and liberated Luzon's capital city from more than three years of Japanese "iron fist" rule.

It was considered fitting that the Eighth Regiment, a unit of Maj. Gen. Verne Mudge's veteran First Cavalry Division, should play the role of liberator. For these columns, led by 28-year-old Lieut. Col. Haskett Conner, have spearheaded the mechanized drive since the final push for Manila began three days ago.

Short talks were given by Game

respond to fire alarms during January.

Presenting his monthly report, Chief Lloyd Y. Crouthamel announced there had been no fire calls during January, but that the ambulance was in service three times during the first month of the year.

Attended by 31 members, the meeting was in charge of the president, Oawin M. Keeler, who announced the annual maintenance drive will be started this month.

Quakertown Rotarians met Thursday evening with the Quakertown Kiwanis and Lions clubs at a dinner held in the newly enlarged cafeteria at Quakertown high school. The meeting was featured by the annual farm show sponsored by a feed firm.

Nine Rotarian guests from Perkasie were also in attendance in addition to County Agent William F. Greenawalt, Doylestown, who judged some of the farm products on display.

The president of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America called as master of ceremonies and called on each of the service club presidents in term to present their members and transact whatever business was desired. Other officers of the F. F. A. were also guests of Mr. Romig. Several farmers from that community and the farm show speakers were also guests.

Included among the farm show speakers was Dr. E. L. Nixon, formerly of the State College extension force, and now engaged as field representative of the Pennsylvania Association of Chain Stores.

John Van DerWort, a State College poultry specialist, gave a number of interesting bits of information about the poultry business.

POTTSTOWN.—(INS)—Police are looking for a thief who really believes in signs. Thomas Weiss, a tailor, placed an "out to lunch" sign on his door when he stepped out for a quick snack, and the thief entered the shop and took $7.

in the military service, and several of the female applicants were uniforms too. The docket shows that 65 per cent of the applicants were non-residents of Bucks county, with the average age of the males being 26 and the females 24.

When the applicants apply in uniform of some branch of the service it usually means a job for the county judges, who must sign certain papers if the couple desires to take advantage of waiving the three-day law in Pennsylvania.

Every female applicant in January was employed in some type of work, a large number working in defense plants.

What February holds forth remains to be seen. A year ago in February there were 51 licenses granted, but that's a long way off from April's 266 licenses in 1940, which was somewhat of a record.

Among the applicants who were granted licenses in January this year, there were 13 who had been divorced. As usual, the majority of the marriages in January were performed by justices of the peace. The applicants came from nine different states.

phila without electric current for 20 minutes. The section affected included Lawndale, Crescentville, Olney, Burholme and Mayfair.

According to a spokesman for Phila. Electric Co. during the night hours the current demand is so low there is no need to use all of the sub-station's equipment. Near daylight hours the load becomes heavier and an attendant on duty must switch some of it over to additional lines which carry about 13,000 volts. At 5:50 a. m., Saturday, Mr. Neitzel was engaged in this task when a flash-back took place. The load was too heavy for the circuits, officials say, causing a

"breaker" and current suspension. "It was in this breaker apparatus that the arc-flash was formed and spurted in Neitzel's face, chest, arms and upper part of his legs."

Recordings automatically made at the company's main plant caused officials to notify police, and officers found Neitzel unconscious on the floor of the sub-station.
